Job Description:

- We are looking for a Project Manager to work directly with the two of us to hold our work together across a broad institutional, venture, and research portfolio at IIT Madras.
- The portfolio spans the School of Innovation & Entrepreneurship, the Energy Sciences Centre at IITM's Discovery Campus, IndusDC (India's first industrial decarbonisation venture studio), the Shell-IITM Centre for Energy Research, the Centre of Excellence on Sports Science and Analytics, the Kotak-IITM Save Energy Mission, and a set of early-stage ventures and several industry engagements and Board positions.
- This role is cross-portfolio by design. You won't be embedded in any single entity - your value comes from holding the whole, consistently, over time

Roles and responsibilities:

- Maintaining a single view across all domains: conversations owed, decisions pending, hires in motion, reviews due.
- Preparing for senior meetings - briefing notes, context, prior commitments, specific outcomes sought. Capturing actions and tracking them to closure.
- Drafting first versions of decision documents, agreements, charters, and external communications, including managing social media.

- Coordinating with operational leads across the portfolio as a peer, not an intermediary.
- Running a weekly rhythm: a 60-minute Tuesday review and a Friday close-out, walking through priorities, slippage, and what needs escalation.

Compensation:

- up to ₹2 LPA performance bonus, depending on experience. Active investment in your development throughout the tenure.
- At the end of your time in this role, it is a credible launchpad - a senior operator position at an IndusDC company, a leadership role at the Energy or Sports Centre, or Head of Operations at an SIE-incubated venture.
